Summary

I'm an AI Agent Developer and Data Analyst passionate about building intelligent applications and transforming data into actionable insights. My expertise spans Python, SQL, Excel, and Power BI for data analysis, along with modern AI technologies including OpenAI Agents SDK, LangGraph/LangChain, CrewAI, Prompt Engineering and the Model Context Protocol (MCP). I also work with Git & GitHub, REST APIs to build scalable AI-powered solutions. I enjoy solving real-world problems by combining analytics with AI. From creating interactive dashboards and analysing business data to developing AI agents, multi-agent systems, and LLM-powered applications, my focus is on building practical solutions that improve decision-making and automate complex workflows. I'm continuously expanding my knowledge through hands-on projects and staying current with advancements in AI engineering and data analytics. I welcome opportunities to collaborate, learn, and contribute to innovative teams.
